

Police officer W. M. Trail is receiving the congratulations of his fellow Roanoke officers today. (Start film)

Trail - for the 2nd year in a row - has taken top honors as the department's best pistol-shot. (Show film)

The steel-nerved traffic officer topped all competition this year with a score of 98.68 - - - out of a possible 100. Trail took time off from his regular duties yesterday to show our WSLs-TV camera just how he does it.

Trail's been a member of the police department for 11 years. However, he knew his way around a firing range before joining the ~~MARINE~~ ^{uniform} service. He's an ex-Marine.

Runnerup to Trail this year is Officer Herbert Beer who shot an astounding 98.15. What makes Trail's feat the more remarkable is that Beer set the pace first and left the pressure on Trail. If it bothered the champ, he didn't show it. (Back to P.)
