Here in Roanoke.... (roll film)

The 1958 City-county tennis tournament moves into its third day of action with most of the seeded stars all set to play.

Top-seeded and back to defend the title he has won 17 previous times is the ageless Charlie Turner.

He has made winning the city-county net event a habit.

But he'll plenty of competition from Lu Merritt and Fred Bromm. Merritt, on the right, is a three-time winner and was runnerup to Turner last year. Merritt and Bromm are the defending doubles champions.

Seeded behind them are Turner and Doug Craig, a hefty swinger himself.
