Amid more than usual confusion....(start film) Virginia's 1959 auto license plates went on sale today.

(show film)

The additional confusion was caused by Virginia's new uninsured motorist law, which car owners are coming into contact with for the first time. Each motorist is required to furnish the name of his insurance company, the number of the policy, and the effective date of the policy. If he doesn't produce the information, ~~or~~ or if his polickey doesn't provide for at least 10,000 bodily injury and 1,000 dollars property damage, he must pay an extra 15-dollar fee to get his plates. It's proving very confusing to some motorists...
