Four workers at the Firestone Poultry Plant at Troutville have been hospitalized after their car was hit by a train yesterday afternoon.

The accident occurred at Troutville.

There were seven people in the car at the time of the mishap.

None of the four who were hurt were seriously injured.

In satisfactory condition at Lewis-Gale Hospital this morning are 44-year old Virgie Hambrick, 37-year old Lester Hodges and his 31-year old wife, Gracie, all of Buchanan and 46-year old Pauline Duke of Springwood.

The car apparently stalled on the tracks.

The vehicle was carried about 50 yards by the impact.
