Virginia's oldest soldier has been buried with full military honors in the Scott County community where he lived virtually all his life. (SHOW FILM)

A military guard and the Second Army Band were on hand yesterday when 112-year old John Salling was buried on a hillside overlooking two of his former homes.

Now there's only one remaining veteran of the Civil War. He's 116-year old Walter Williams of Houston, Texas. Williams, who like Salling fought for the Confederate cause, sent a floral wreath to a buddy he never met.
